

MULTI-FAITH MULTICULTURAL CENTRE

July 2018, Issue 77

I was glad to attend 'Silence for Peace'. Being with people from different faith traditions somehow allows me to feel more comfortable in the world. There is a hope that I can learn from others.

This is what I intended to convey in my talk '...We may somehow sense that we are being guided towards this way of life for we consider ourselves as part of a greater reality. Dr Patrick Oliver would call this greater reality, the circle of grace, We gre seeking a peace that embraces all just as we are being sought in order that we too may bring peace to others....The writer of Hebrews in the Christian Scriptures says, 'Make every effort to live at peace with all men' and we can't do this on our own...I feel here is a contemplative renaissance going on in the world and the dawning of something new.'

Thank you to Joanne Anderson, St James Anglican Church and Pure Land Learning College Association and all others involved for your generosity and good heartedness. It would not have gone unnoticed by all of us who attended.
